GOOD HIGHWAY HELPS

How to Solve the Problem of Clean Roadside.

DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS.

Build Good Fences in Front of Farms. Use the Drag and Harrow Until Cold Weather—Tip on Improving Soil Roads.

It is encouraging to see the attention that is being paid to good roads all through the United States. Various state organizations are taking the matter up, national conventions are being held, and an international meeting was recently called to convene in France. Everything points toward better highways, better facilities for marketing crops and better conditions for the farmer.

A good road brings one nearer to his neighbors, nearer to his church and school and nearer to his market. The time will soon come when one will speak of a farm as being two miles distant from town rather than two miles. The popularity which the automobile is rapidly acquiring among farmers will promote this good roads movement.

In line with this movement the following suggestions on the improvement of roads are of value:

There is a splendid opportunity for the individual to help the good work along by taking care of the roads in front of his own farm. There is no surer method than to take pride in the road that goes past your door. D. Ward King began his successful road campaign in this way. It spread from a little Missouri town to all parts of the world.

There is one line of road improvement that is more easily overlooked than any other and consequently more frequently overlooked. Every roadway can be kept free from noxious weeds with comparatively little labor if the matter is taken up promptly. Each weed that matures bears a more prolific crop of seed than its predecessor. If the fence corners and the roadside are kept free it will be an easy matter to exterminate the undesirable weed seeds which are coming from the roadside. The weeds can be pulled out by hand or you can at least have regard for your adjacent field to keep the weeds from growing along the roadside.

When time, labor and money have been expended upon the beds of country roads and highways there is the hope of compensation in the way of improvement.

If the farmer west of the Mississippi is blessed with a good road leading to his farm, why shouldn't he pay some attention to the roadside? There are instances where he has an excuse. A rank growth of weeds and briars may be more pleasing to look at than the fence they hide, but where land is worth $30 or more per acre he forgets that excuse. A good, well constructed fence along the highway will arouse a certain amount of pride, which acts as an incentive to get busy with the scythe and ax and clean up.

Many county supervisors and members of the Iowa Good Roads association are advocating the building of a good highway fence, one which will be an effective guard against trespass and add beauty to the landscape as the real solution of the clean roadside problem.

Most of the road tax has been worked out. Presumably country roads will need no further attention until next summer, but they do just the same. They must be kept clean, dry and leveled continuously until frozen solid. This is easy; this is important. Neglect it and the vast amount of work and money expended will be largely wasted. This is the weakness of the present system of road management in the middle west. The work is not economically done. There has been some improvement in the last year, but not much. Let the farmers help by dragging and harrowing newly made or repaired roads until cold weather.

A good way to improve a sand road is to spread a coating of clay over it with a manure spreader.

CURED RHEUMATISM

Nearly everybody is susceptible to a twinge of rheumatism, sciatica, toothache, headache or neuralgia, and it is never safe to be without a good remedy for an emergency of this kind.

No matter what kind of pain you have the beneficial effect of Sloan's Liniment is immediate. You lay it on lightly—no rubbing whatever and a pleasant warmth is felt at once. The Liniment penetrates right to the bone and quickly stops the pain.

Mr. Chas. J. Budlong of Anthony, R. I., Box 12, writes: "For many years I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism. My hips would swell to enormous proportions and my knee joints would pain me in the most excruciating, awful manner imaginable. I used often to have to fall from the bed into a chair and thence to the floor, when I wanted to get from my bed. I used only some six or eight bottles of your celebrated Liniment and was cured. I can truly recommend its use to all rheumatic sufferers. Refer to me if you so desire. All letters answered."

NEW ROAD MACHINE.

Grading Attachment That Can Be Put Upon Any Tractor Engine.

Streets of Holdrege, Neb., have been improved and beautified by a very unique and original tractor road and street grading machine, the invention of Elijah A. Hollenbeck of Park, Neb. The machine was built by Mr. Hollenbeck himself and is a most wonderful illustration of the ingenuity of construction, owing to lack of facilities for turning out the proper kind of work. It has proved a success and a money maker from the very start, says the Omaha World-Herald. It is in fact a road grading attachment, so constructed that it can readily be put upon any ordinary make of tractor engine.

The machine is very simple in its construction and seldom ever gets out of order or causes any annoyance to the operator. It consists of a frame attached to the boiler and running gear of the engine. On the left side, directly in front of the large drive wheel, is a beam carrying the plow. The furrow cut by the plow is just outside of the tread of the drive wheel of the engine, enabling the operator to cut a straight line to any length desired. The dirt is dropped from the moldboard upon a belt conveyor passing under the boiler of the engine and deposited in the middle of the street or road to make the grade. The outer end of this conveyor can be raised or lowered to meet requirements.

Mr. Hollenbeck, the inventor, is a young farmer who has lived on a farm all his life. He has had no special education as a machinist, his only education is that being that gleaned from practical experience in operating thrashing machines and other kinds of farm machinery.

Keep Out of Rut—Save Roads.

It is not unlikely that American farmers who have with them always the question of the maintenance of the roads they may find in the following order, which was issued by the Panama canal commission to officers and men on the isthmus, a question of how carelessness contributes to making good roads bad and bad roads worse. The order says:

"Notices have been placed at the curbs, and the canal foremen have instructed teams that the custom of wagons following in one another's tracks must be discontinued. Considerable of the maintenance work on the macadam roads, especially during the wet season, is made necessary by wagons wearing deep ruts. The teams have been instructed to distribute travel over the full width of the highways, and it is believed that the cost of road repairs will be much reduced as soon as compliance with these instructions becomes general."

Grading a Roadbed.

It is simply extraordinary the lack of judgment shown by many who undertake to shape a roadbed. The road allowance in various states is six to six feet. In rounding up the roadbed the earth is sometimes moved toward the center from nearly the entire distance of the width of the road. This means that the ditches for carrying away the water are not distant from the fences that hedge off the highway. The roadbed is entirely too wide. It cannot be sufficiently rounded toward the center, and as a result water does not run off with sufficient quickness. The temptation to spoil roads by grading them thus is all the stronger. The road graders have come into use. This result follows from the comparative quickness with which the earth can be moved by these machines. A distance of forty-two to forty-five feet between the outer edges of the ditches furnishes a roadbed sufficiently wide.

HINTS FOR BUSY WOMEN.

How Newspapers on Kitchen Tables Prove Traveling Utilities.

The faithful reader of the Atlantic Monthly Magazine will remember well the young woman who confessed in an issue of two or three years ago that the source of her remarkable freedom of information and her broad knowledge of affairs was all due to her grandmother's uncomplaining meals of economy and cleanliness. Was it the kitchen table freshly scrubbed and the board above the sink washed and scoured? Then cover them with newspapers. Newspapers were everywhere, and as this young woman, who was then a girl in her early teens, pared the apples or shelled the peas or washed the dishes three daily her eyes traveled up and down the columns of those papers that shrouded everything about her. Editorials and news items, all were allies to her. She read them all, and reading, remembered.

The methods of today are neither so delicate nor so particular as to permit this sort of newspaper education, but a contributor to a current magazine suggests another method by which she obtains a liberal education while "at the wing" as it were.

She is a busy woman and can spare only a few minutes each day for the papers. As she reads the leading articles in the magazines may be all that she has time for, but there are often long articles on art or literature or matters of national importance which she longs to read through. So she has formed the habit of marking these articles, and after the dinner hours of the family have read the paper one of the children cuts the marked pieces out and slips them into the mother's pocketbook. This can be repeated through the car when waiting for an appointment or at other odd seasons and thoroughly enjoyed. And so in the end this busy woman finds herself not so far behind the times, after all.

Design for Street Costume.

The dressmaker has a very attractive costume for street wear, the one having the newest features of the season.

DESIGN FOR STREET COSTUME.

The model is in black broadcloth, with white revers and white pocket flaps. Buttons, but the model is also especially well adapted to soft, flat fur, such as pony skin or seal. The skirt of the gown is of a waiting length, in a good circular, and the sleeves are small and fitted without fullness into the armhole.

Kitchen Help.

A dozen grains of rice in a salt cellar will absorb dampness and keep the salt in position. It also breaks the lumps that there may be in the salt. An alarm clock kept in the kitchen may be set to ring at the time the vegetables should be put over the fire or the hot bread or the cake or pudding is due to be done and as a guide to time in many other matters.

Backs for kettles and iron covers may be made on the back of the doors of kitchen closets and will save much trouble. Get brass screw hooks and arrange them in the lower edges of the crosswise panels of the door. Screw larger hooks at each end of the panels and stretch the door springs attached to them across the panels to a distance of the spring from the bottom of the panel varies according to the size of the covers. The hooks for the springs on the large covers should be put about the middle of the panel and for the smallest covers quite near the bottom.

The covers or flat trays slipped between the springs and the doors will rest on the hooks along the lower edge.

For Milk Bottles.

A little rubber lid for milk bottles is now on sale at the grocery stores. These are circular pieces of flexible white rubber with a little round button in the center, and they fit in any milk bottle, taking the place of the iron spring paper top or the old tin top. These rubber caps cost 5 cents and last practically forever. Once tried one you will never be without them.

Milk bottles should be carefully wiped about the top with a wet cloth before removing the parchment top.

BENEFITS IN DISEASE.

Typoid, if You Pull Through, Gives You a New Stomach.

GOOD EVEN IN RHEUMATISM.

That Painful Affliction Keeps Other Miseries Out of the System and Is a Promoter of Long Life—Blessings of Colds and Smallpox.

To be struck down by disease seems a most unlivable thing yet there are many living today in the fullest enjoyment of very excellent health who but for their attack of some disease would have lived a life of almost perpetual misery.

These people were, first of all, victims of indigestion in its worst form, and only those who have experienced it know what true indigestion is. Struck down by typhoid fever, they came through the trying ordeal cured of indigestion for an outstanding cure. Centrality of typhoid is that if you pass through an attack safely it gives you a new stomach. In fact, after an attack of typhoid the digestive system is left with a stomach like an infant.

That is the grand chance offered to one who has suffered. It may be, for some years from acute indigestion. If one takes care, after an attack of typhoid he need never know indigestion again.

It is considered that any one troubled with severe indigestion is not advised to go hunting around for typhoid fever. That might prove to be a disastrous mistake.

A chronic cold is just one of those things which none of us want, yet even a chronic cold has its good points. More especially if you happen to be in years a bit more old, of course. People who are up in years and who suffer from chronic bronchitis seem to get through the winter with less blood in good circulation. For, of course, the colds and coughs, and that gives the heart a jerk and sends the blood coursing nicely through the veins and arteries.

If the cold be not too acute, old people derive considerable benefit. An attack of the cold, the other hand, may cut off an old person in a day or two. It is the chronic type only which yields benefit.

Smallpox is a dreaded scourge, so much so that if it is reported that a case exists in a neighborhood a thrill passes through the whole community.

Yet those who suffer from smallpox and recover usually live to a green old age. It seems to renew life in some mysterious way by thoroughly purifying the blood.

If, however, you desire to attain to a ripe old age, you cannot get on at all without rheumatism. Consider the hosts of old folks you encounter holding aloft, grumbling all the day about their bones and joints. In all probability these old people would have been in their graves years before last but for this rheumatism. The reason is that if rheumatism is in the system it keeps other ills out. It makes a grand fighting force and keeps most other enemies of the human frame at bay, especially those of the geriatric type.

Very naturally if you have such a grand friend at hand you have to pay something for all rendered, but the pain of rheumatism, if shockingly severe at times, is not deadly, and that is why one gets so little sympathy when suffering from rheumatism.

Not the plain fact that a slight malady always benefits you, even if indirectly. As an example of that, say a very bad spell of weather comes and you get wet, and you contract a slight cold.

What do you propose to do? Why, to take the greatest care of yourself and to get the cold out of your system. You could get no chance of developing into anything worse. Now, did that very slight cold make its appearance and cause you to be extremely careful of what you did there is no saying what might happen to you any day during a spell of evil, cold weather. You might have exposed yourself so much that a severe chill of inflammation of the lungs.

Accordingly a slight cold may easily save you from many worse ills.

In this way minor afflictions act as warnings that worse things are coming along, but unfortunately many persons quite neglect these warnings. A man, for example, has indigestion more or less constantly, yet pays little attention to it. He goes on and on, and it appears one day. Now, if he had just paid attention to the matter at the beginning—heeded the warning, in short—there would not have been a need for a severe liver attack later on.

Every pain, every ache, every head-ache—all these are warnings that something is in the way and to be along shortly.—Pearson's Weekly.

VALUE OF WIDE TIRES.

One of the First Essentials to Good Highways.

The King dog is no doubt a good thing, but how about the wide tired wagon? Observe the dirt road after a thorough soaking. The farmer cannot work in his fields, and, having some wheat, corn, oats or hops to haul to market, the time to haul is while the fields are unfit to be worked, saving time by doing so.

He loads his product into his one and a half inch tired wagon, 3,000 pounds or more, and probably hires four horses to his load, and along the wide distance he cuts a rut from three to six inches deep. Several of his neighbors do likewise, and soon the road is worked down to the consistency of mortar a foot deep, says J. P. Anderson of Agoda, Kan., in the Farmers Advocate. All observers will

EFFECT OF NARROW AND WIDE TIRES. The narrow tires bear me out when I say that if these tires had been four inches or more the road would have been better than this. A wide tire under a load makes an observer think of a roller.

I think this wide tire proposition is one of the essentials to good roads and should be encouraged by legislation and a limit laid for the amount of load for every inch of tire width. If such tires were required to be three inches or more for 2,000 pound loads and one additional inch for each added 1,000 or major fraction thereof, much less work would be required to maintain our roads.

OUT FOR THE BEST ROADS.

Why the West Believes in Building Highways For Automobiles.

"The good roads movement in the east does not compare with that of the west," said Thomas C. Gordon of the Richmond Road Roads association while he was in New York on a visit.

"I think the work of the good roads movement in the west has stirred in the public demand and desire for the best roads in the world in the west, but I do not believe the eastern states are carrying out the work so thoroughly as the western states."

"We in the west appreciate the fact that the opening of the western country depends entirely upon its roads, and we are not going to build highways which will last more than a decade, like your eastern state roads, to be torn up by automobiles."

"We are building roads which the motor cars cannot tear up. We feel that the automobile can do us more harm than good because we have to cover hundreds of miles where you in the east cover ten miles."

"It seems a ridiculous thing to build a road for the use of the horse, while the automobile is on the decline, and then when the automobile comes along and tears it up to jump up and yell that the motor car is destroying our roads. The thing to do is to build roads for the automobile, and then the horse can use them as long as he lasts, which will not be a great while."

Forest Service and Good Roads.

Realizing that with thicker settlement and increasing use of the national forests good roads will become more and more a crying necessity, it has been arranged that the office of public roads of the department of agriculture shall co-operate with the forest service in drawing up plans for comprehensive systems of roads and trails in the national forests. Heretofore the funds allotted by congress to the forest service for permanent improvements on national forests have largely been used for road and trail building, but the amount of road and trail work with the total area of the forests to make possible more than a small beginning.

Building each year under the new arrangement can be done with reference to a carefully worked out plan, escaping the danger of undirected effort, and roads, trails, telephone lines and fire lines already constructed in national forests are proving of great value both in the work of protection and in the convenience of the public. The further this work can be carried the greater will be the usefulness of the forests to the surrounding regions. This is only one of the many ways in which the forest service is promoting the interests of the people.

All the world seems to be satisfied with Mr. Taft's election, and old Breckenridge—God bless her—stands among the rejoicing.

The first speech Mr. Taft made after his election was to a Methodist conference. That is what we call the true Christian spirit.

We heard a leading Kentucky Democrat singing:—
"Hail! Hail! The gangs on deck
What in the hell do we care?"

Mr. Taft, has the distinguished honor of being the first President who has circumnavigated the globe. That is one reason why the Nation are so rejoiced, especially Japan. They all know him and wanted him to be President.

Brief News Notes.

The outlook for better times is extremely encouraging and as a result of the election of Mr. Taft, it has been learned by the American Industries that at least 650,000 idle men will be given work at once.

Prominent citizens of Danville, Ky., have inaugurated a movement to persuade W. J. Bryan to locate in that city. If they get him, it is their purpose to run him for United States Senator.

Disputes say that the turkey crop in Central Kentucky will be short this year owing to the wet weather last spring.

Last week the first sale at the Danville Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse took place. The tobacco brought an average price of $21.00 per hundred.

Former Senator Edward W. Carmack, editor of the Tennesseean, was shot and killed Monday by Robin Cooper, a son of Col. Duncan B. Cooper. The trouble is one of the results of the recent Democratic gubernatorial primary in which Carmack was defeated.

Whipped But Not Conquered.

Dear Mr. Babbage:—Once again in my great sorrow over Democracy's defeat do I extend congratulations to you. Whipped but not conquered is my only consolation.

With best wishes from the Lone Star State.

Very truly,

SAVE THIS

Put It In Some Safe Place, for It May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe. Try it:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kardon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily made at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

No Improvement

Little Johnnie Snyder, of Ekron, who was accidentally shot by Stanley Brown, is not any better and his condition has occasioned much apprehension in his family.

Eye-glass comfort depends on three conditions:—Careful selection of lenses by an oculist, accurate grinding of lenses to the highest finish and accurate adjustment of the lenses to each eye. The latter important condition we consider this the most difficult for the general optician to attain, on account of the distance between the eyes should be the shape and size of the nose vary in each individual. The ART of accurate fitting therefore becomes a scientific and mechanical combination, and in this ART I offer you the greatest inducements. Children's spectacles should be frequently adjusted to their eyes as their rapid growth demands it. This adjusting receives our careful attention. For consultation free call on Sam Englander. He will be at the Patent House from Nov. 2nd, to Nov. 14.

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home. Take

MAKING GOOD.

A valuable man to have in town is Will Pate, the foreman of the Cloverport Foundry. Mr. Pate is to a machine what the doctor is to a person he can always start the wheel again after it has run down. The Breckenridge News could hardly run its plant without the willing and excellent services of Mr. Pate.

Many of the steam boats, gasoline tugs and launches which go to this port when anything is wrong about their engines and call for Mr. Pate. He is one man on the Ohio river that made good when it comes to doctoring a machine.

No one can question that the cash system is the best system for the way to do business when they note the success of Julian Brown. Not a pound of butter nor a sack of salt can be taken from Mr. Brown's store unless he have given him the cash in hand. He will not even let you take any goods home with a promise to return immediately with the money for it you have to be "Johnny on the spot." Mr. Brown's business has out grown two or three store rooms in Cloverport and this week he is moving into a still larger building.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurt.

CURE BY CUTICURA AT CUTICURA

Young Woman Found in Awful Condition with Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Tried Many Remedies for Seven Weeks—Result Was Discouraging, But

ITCHING TORTURES YIELDED TO CUTICURA

"While I was doing missionary work in the lower portion of several cities I found it necessary to know a little of the efficacy of a few medicines and after a while I found that a little knowledge of Cuticura was about all I needed. One of the very bad cases I had to deal with was that of a young woman who had come to us in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient pemphigus, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure and the effects of her ragged-edged life. Her poor body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to obtain relief. I bought a box of Cuticura and a good toilet was prescribed and bathes with a rubbing of lard and sulphur. We worked hard for several weeks and you can imagine how discouraged we were when, after all this time, we could see so little improvement. One day I happened to see a Cuticura advertisement in a paper and I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. When I reached home I was like a child with a new toy, and we bathed our patient well and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept that night better than she had for months and she had been with us and the next day I located the problem. I am not exaggerating when I say that in exactly five weeks this young woman was able to look for a position, being strong enough to work and full of ambition. In another month she left the home, and now has a good position in a nice family where she is respected and is content and well. You may refer any one you wish to me personally. Lillian J. Bates, 825 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y., Mar. 11, 1907."

Whereupon it is ordered by the court that John Alexander be and he is hereby appointed as a commissioner of this court to ascertain the wishes of Grayson county with reference to said proposed bridge and he will report his acts herein at the next term of this court.

The claim of Allen R. Atkinson, official stenographer of the Ninth Judicial District, amounting to $120.90 for taking testimony and making transcript of same in case of Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Clark, having been referred to Gus Brown, the county attorney, for legal investigation and advice, and he having reported that the law requires its payment, but declaring such claims as being in the nature of impositions on the county, if great care is not exercised by the attorneys making the affidavits. Upon motion and second the claim is allowed, with the respectful recommendation and request by this court that the attorneys hereafter file as few affidavits requiring orders which bind the county, as is possible, $120.90.

This day came the commissioners for Breckenridge and Grayson counties and filed their report of acceptance of the steel bridge at Eveleigh Mill which is ordered recorded and is as follows:

This day came the commissioners for Breckenridge and Grayson counties and filed their report of acceptance of the steel bridge at Eveleigh Mill which is ordered recorded and is as follows:

This certifies that "The Champion Bridge Company, of Wilmington, Ohio, has completed ready for travel, steel bridge across the Tar Fork bridge, Eveleigh Mill in Breckenridge and Grayson counties, Kentucky, according to the plans on file for said bridge, and to the satisfaction of the committees in charge, we find the material better than specifications call for, who hereby accept the same and authorize a settlement therefor agreeably to the terms of the contract entered into between the undersigned and said company on the 19th day of April, 1907.

Dated at Eveleigh's Mill, the 31st day of July, 1908.

R. E. Moorman,
Z. T. Proctor,

Approved, J. V. St. Clair, S. R. B. C. This day came J. V. St. Clair, who was directed by this court to let the contract for the Breckenridge approach to Eveleigh Mill bridge, and filed his report, which is ordered to record, and is as follows, to-wit:

To the Fiscal Court of Breckenridge county:

Having been ordered by a former term of this court, to let contract for approach for Breckenridge side of Eveleigh Mill bridge, would report a compliance with said order, and that said contract was let to Mr. John Eskridge for the sum of 20 cents per cubic yard. Would further report that said contract has been performed according to plans and specification and has been accepted by me. Number of Cubic yards contained in fill, $454.40 at 20 cents per cubic yard amounting to $90.88.

Respectfully submitted,
J. V. St. Clair, Supervisor of Roads and Bridges.

This day came J. V. St. Clair, Bridge Commissioner, pursuant to an order entered at a called term of this court held July 7, 1908, and filed his report herein, which is ordered to record and is as follows, to-wit:

To the Fiscal Court of Breckenridge county:

Having been ordered by the Fiscal Court at the special term of July, 1908, to investigate the condition of the abutment of Eveleigh Mill bridge that is cracked, and so determine if it could be successfully grouted, I report that it is my opinion that the suggestion of the experts can and should be carried out by grouting said rock work, and I so notified Murphy Bros., the contractors, immediately after the adjournment of said term of court and apprized them of my readiness and willingness to represent and superintend such work at that time. Said contractors failed and refused to do such work and still refuse to do it. The Bridge Company, after the notice and refusal of Murphy Bros., put the bridge at said abutment without my orders or knowledge or consent, and the bridge now is in danger and the abutment is as it was left by the contractors.

Respectfully submitted,
J. V. St. Clair, Road Supervisor and Bridge Commissioner.

Justices McCallish, Vessels and Drury having been appointed as a committee to make investigation and report recommendations in the Eveleigh Mill bridge and abutment matters and having read the reports of Commissioner St. Clair and the report of the commissioners to erect said bridge, made the following recommendations: That the claim of John Eskridge amounting to $244.65 for constructing approach as shown by the commissioner's report be allowed and paid; that the bridge be constructed by the Champion Bridge Company amounting to the sum of $454.40. (The total amount of the claim being $699.05).

Respectfully submitted,
J. V. St. Clair, Bridge Commissioner,
Frank Ruppert, Justice 1st District,
J. O'Reilly, Justice 2nd District,
J. C. McCallish, Justice 3rd District.

Mrs. Anna C. Hyde

The Testimony of These Three Housewives Demonstrates Beyond All Doubt That Peruna is a Safe and Useful Remedy.

Gained Flesh on Peruna.

Mrs. Hattie Hamilton, R. F. D. No. 2, Sparks, Ky., writes:

"I have taken two bottles of Peruna and commenced on the third one. I did not really need the third one, but thought it best to take another bottle.

"I have always weighed 102 pounds, but since I began taking Peruna I weigh 120, for the first time in all my life, and since I have taken two more bottles I feel entirely well, but I will continue taking the medicine for a short time to make sure of my cure.

"I think Manilla is one of the finest remedies for constipation that I ever tried. I will never be without it. It has made me so strong. I can do a day's work and never tire. I am so glad I do not get those dizzy spells any more. I haven't had one since I took your medicine.

Internal Catarrh.

Mrs. M. E. Jones, of Burning Springs, Ky., writes:

"No family should ever be without Peruna, for it is an unfailing cure for colds, and it is an excellent remedy to prevent and relieve cough.

"And to speak from a standpoint of experience, I can candidly say that it is the remedy for internal catarrh. I shall not hesitate to recommend it, especially to all suffering women.

"Peruna has gained full confidence and a permanent stay in our home."

Kidneys and Bladder.

Mrs. Osa H. Carlson, Box 301, Oronville, Minn., writes:

"I had catarrh of the kidneys and bladder. I have taken Peruna until now, and I don't think I need to take any longer.

"I feel well, and my tongue is clear, and I have no bitter taste in my mouth. I am very thankful for Peruna."

The only valuable testimony which any household remedy can have is the testimony of those who have used it. It is worse than useless to discuss Peruna from a theoretical standpoint. It is what Peruna will do, not what people say about it, that constitutes evidence. The housewives of the United States know what Peruna will do. They have tried it. They have realized its benefit in the family. They are the ones who are competent to speak of it. Self-appointed critics know nothing of it whatever.

Peruna Their Family Medicine.

Mrs. Anna C. Hyde, 712 E. Yamhill street, Portland, Oregon, Vice President Literary and Educational Organization of New Hampshire, writes:

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna as an all-round good family medicine, and one that is safe to give children. I give it to mine at the least suspicion of a cold, and take it myself to build up my strength and nerves.

"My sister, who is living with me, has Peruna, too, and she is loud in its praises.

"Your medicine is certainly worthy of praise."

Backache, Headache.

Mrs. Treasle Nelson, 609 N. Fifth Ave., Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"As Peruna has done me a world of good, I feel in duty bound to tell of it, in hopes that it may meet the eyes of some woman who has suffered as I did.

"For five years I really did not know what a perfectly well day was, and if I did not have headache, I had backache or a pain somewhere and really life was not worth the effort I made to keep going.

"A good friend advised me to use Peruna and I was glad to try anything, and I am very pleased to say that six bottles made me feel like a new woman and I have no more pains and life looks bright again."

Catarrh of Bowels.

Mrs. Magie Durbin, 1822 North street, Little Rock, Ark., writes:

"I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease, I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said constipation and others said hemorrhoids. One doctor said he could cure me. I took his medicine two months, but it did me no good.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, and I had no more pain, and it had cured me sound and well.

"I can recommend Peruna to anyone, and if anyone wants to know what Peruna did for me I will write to me I will answer promptly."
